Choose HACC's Surgical Technology Program.

HACC's Surgical Technology Program is nationally accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs (CAAHEP).

Accreditation of educational programs is considered in state statutory and regulatory determinations as a baseline for entry-level employment, in funding opportunities for student loans, as an eligibility requirement for certification examinations and by potential students and the healthcare consumer. - Accreditation Review Council on Education in Surgical Technology and Surgical Assisting (ARC/STSA)

Why does accreditation matter?

Students in an accredited program:

- Receive an education that meets the standards of the profession
- Can find employment in multiple healthcare systems
- Can receive state and federal financial aid funds
- Are eligible to sit for the national certification exam
- Gain the certified surgical technologist (CST) credential
- Enjoy good salaries and job security after graduation
